Your Choices

For certain health information, you can tell us your choices about what we share. If you have a clear preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, talk to us. Tell us what you want us to do, and we will follow your instructions.

In these cases, you have both the right and choice to tell us to:

- Share information with your family, close friends, or others involved in your care.
- Share information in a disaster relief situation.

If you are not able to tell us your preference, for example if you are unconscious, we may go ahead and share your information if we believe it is in your best interest. We may also share your information when needed to lessen a serious and imminent threat to health or safety.

In these cases, we never share your information unless you give us written permission:

- Marketing purposes.
- Sale of your information.
- Most sharing of psychotherapy notes.

In the case of fundraising:

- We may contact you for fundraising efforts, but you can tell us not to contact you again.

Our Uses and Disclosures

How do we typically use or share your health information?

We typically use or share your health information in the following ways.

Treat you	We can use your health information and share it with other professionals who are treating you.	Example: A doctor treating you for an injury asks another doctor about your overall health condition.
Run our organization	We can use and share your health information to run our practice, improve your care, and contact you when necessary.	Example: We use health information about you to manage your treatment and services.
Bill for your services	We can use and share your health information to bill and get payment from health plans or other entities	Example: We give information about you to your health insurance plan so it will pay for your services.
Contact You	We may use your health information to contact you with information about treatment and follow-up care instructions or with information about services we provide.	Example: We may contact you about scheduled or cancelled appointments, registration or insurance updates, billing or payment matters, pre-procedure assessment, satisfaction surveys or test results.

How else can we use or share your health information?

We are allowed or required to share your information in other ways – usually in ways that contribute to the public good, such as public health and research. We have to meet many conditions in the law before we can share your information for these purposes. For more information see:

Confidentiality of Substance Use Treatment Records

Your Rights and Choices: The confidentiality of substance use treatment patient records maintained by us is protected by federal law and regulations. 42 U.S.C. § 290dd-2, 42 U.S.C. 290ee-3, and 42 C.F.R. Part 2 (Part 2). Part 2 provides more stringent federal protections than other health privacy laws and, with limited exceptions, requires patient consent to disclose protected health information even for the purposes of treatment, payment, or health care operations. Each disclosure of information made with your written consent will include notice to the recipient that any further disclosure of information is prohibited unless expressly permitted by your written consent or as otherwise permitted by Part 2. If you wish to allow us to share your sensitive information with other providers or with outside entities for the benefit of care coordination, you can sign a consent form specifying whom we can disclose it to.

Permitted Uses and Disclosures: Please note that federal law permits us to disclose your substance use treatment records without your written permission in the following situations:

- Pursuant to an agreement with a qualified service organization/business associate.
- To qualified personnel for research.
- For audit or program evaluations purposes.
- To report a crime either on the premises of an Advocates Part 2 program or against any Advocates staff who works for one of our Part 2 program drug abuse or alcohol programs.
- To medical personnel in a medical emergency.
- To appropriate state or local authorities to report suspected child abuse or neglect.
- As allowed by a court order.

When a crisis situation presents, confidentiality may be broken in order to ensure your safety. In each instance, information may only be disclosed to the extent necessary.

It is important to note that from time to time you may see Advocates drug abuse or alcohol programs staff (Part 2 Program Staff) in public. Our Part 2 Program Staff will not approach you while in the public arena. However, if you see a Part 2

Program Staff member in a public setting and want to talk to them, you may approach them at the risk of breaking anonymity to the program.

Reporting of Violation: Please know that violation of the federal law and Part 2 regulations is a crime and suspected violations may be reported as follows:

Any violation of Part 2 may be reported:

- To the anonymous Compliance Hotline at Advocates at (877) 296-5432
- Privacy Officer at Advocates: privacyofficer@advocates.org
- To the United States Attorney, United States Attorney's Office John Joseph Moakley U.S. Courthouse
- One Courthouse Way, Suite 9200, Boston, MA 02210, ATTN: Duty Paralegal.
- To the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) office responsible for
- opioid treatment program oversight at: SAMHSA Opioid Treatment Program Compliance Officer contact
- the SAMHSA Center for Substance Abuse Treatment (CSAT) at 866-BUP-CSAT (866-287-2728) or infobuprenorphine@samhsa.hhs.gov.
